Project Statement – Brooklynn Kelly MI449

My project will be a quotes generator for a useless website. While it may hold value for some, it inherently is useless. It will use the Useless Facts API to generate random, niche, and useless facts. It also will use the IMGFlip Memes API to generate low-quality memes, further pursuing its purpose as a useless website. I used React, Tailwind, and tsParticles to create this project.

My initial idea was to create a website with a searchable anime database and quotes generator, but I ran into some issues with CORS. After establishing this final idea, I had wanted to take a more optimistic approach with this project and use an inspirational quotes generator, but ran into more issues with CORS and fees for API keys. I branded this website based on the APIs that I managed to properly fetch.
